U.S. Plans to Launch Venus Ship Sunday

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — American scientists plan to launch a Mariner 2 spacecraft to probe Venus early Sunday to probe secrets of the far-away planet.

Sometime in a three-hour period after midnight, a powerful Atlas-Agena B rocket is scheduled to roar skyward to start the 447-pound gold-and-silver plated payload on an intended 182 million-mile trip.

The Venus shot is the first of four major satellite launchings in the next five weeks and five more before the end of the year planned by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The other major launchings before Oct. 1, disclosed in a confidential flight schedule listed in an NASA booklet called "Pocket Statistics," include the proposed six-orbit Mercury satellite flight of astronaut Walter M. Schirra, planned for late September; a 150-pound Relay communications satellite, and another Telstar satellite.

American Telephone and Telegraph Co. is financing the Telstar project. Relay, like Telstar, is designed to orbit between 500 and 3,000 miles, transmitting communications on a global basis. It is a NASA satellite built by Radio Corp. of America.

The later launchings listed by the booklet included Ranger craft to take pictures of the moon and to land an instrument package on the moon; another Tires weather satellite, another Relay launching and two more Telstars.

The schedule also calls for another high-altitude inflation test of a 135-foot diameter Echo-type balloon, and a third sub-orbital launching of a 1½ million-pound-thrust Saturn C-1 rocket before the end of the year.

NASA officials declined to comment Friday on the listings in the booklet. The publication said that "It is NASA's policy to do first and talk later."

If Mariner 2 successfully completes a series of tricky midcourse maneuvers, it will streak within 10,000 miles of Venus on Dec. 14 and electronic instruments will seek to unlock mysteries which are masked by a perpetual mantle of heavy clouds around the planet, and radio its findings back to earth.

Firm to Get More MOP Capital Stock

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Mississippi River Fuel Corp. disclosed Thursday a plan to increase its capital stock holdings in Missouri Pacific, one of the nation's larger railroads, to more than 80 per cent.

Directors of the natural gas pipeline company, with headquarters in St. Louis, authorized the exchange of 1.2 million shares of its stock for 900,000 shares of Missouri Pacific Class A stock. This would give Mississippi River, which now holds slightly more than 34 per cent of the railroad's 1,912,368 voting shares, slightly more than 80 per cent of the voting shares.

Board Chairman William G. Marberry of Mississippi, Ruel, who was in New York, said acquisition of more than 80 per cent of the capital stock would eliminate taxes on dividends received by Mississippi from the railroad.

"We think we can make a great railroad of the Mopac and if we do all the work, we think we should get the return," said Marberry, who also is chairman of the Mopac executive committee.

Missouri Pacific, which operates in 11 western and southwestern states, and its majority-owned subsidiaries constitute the nation's sixth largest railroad from the standpoint of operating revenues, a spokesman for the line said. Operating revenues last year were $378,178,000. The spokesman said its track mileage of about 10,000 miles makes it the fourth largest railroad in that category.

Theater Evacuated by Bomb Threat

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — The Ritz Theater was evacuated during a twist stage show Thursday night after a telephoned bomb threat.

Osmond Pence, theater manager, asked the crowd to leave after the telephone call. Police searched and found no bomb and the show proceeded.

As the crowd was orderly filing from the theater, Pence's wife walked up and asked a teenaged boy what happened.

"Aw, just a bomb threat," he said. "Mix around with the crowd for a few minutes and you'll probably get in free."

Freed Army Men Enroute to America

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Army men freed by the Laotian Reds after almost a year and a half of brutal treatment, were on their way to Army hospitals today, the Army announced.

They are Maj. Lawrence R. Bailey of Laurel, Md., and Sgt. Orville R. Ballenger of Columbus, Ohio, whose wife lives in Spring Lake, N.C.

They were freed Aug. 17.

The Army said no interviews with the men would be permitted until their condition had improved after treatment. Bailey was headed for Walter Reed Army Medical Center here and Ballenger for Womack Hospital for Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Bailey is suffering from malnutrition, intestinal parasites and malaria. He told Army authorities in Saigon about spending a full year imprisoned in a pitch-black room under heavy guard. No natural or artificial light was permitted to enter his room. Guards allowed Bailey outdoors only at night. The brief respites took place four times nightly and each lasted only from one to three minutes.

Although Bailey was not physically abused, the Army said, the strain of solitary confinement was severe. But the 39-year-old major stubbornly and successfully blocked this effort to shatter his nerves and to break his will to resist, the Army said.

Bailey fell into Pathet Lao hands in March 1961 after parachuting from a C47 transport plane which had been shot down by ground fire. Bailey was then an assistant Army attache in Laos.

Ballenger, 28, was captured in April 1961. He was confined in a different location in Laos and "received equally brutal treatment although of a different type," the Army said.

Ballenger's guards repeatedly tried to induce him to write statements denouncing U.S. support of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. All of these efforts were fruitless, the Army said, adding that "though smitten with malaria" parasites and a bone disease induced by malnutrition, the determined paratroop sergeant refused to succumb to an endless stream of Communist threats and pressure."

After his capture, Ballenger was stripped of personal effects and Red guards tied his upper arms close to his body, looped a length of rope around his neck and "led him as though he were an animal on a leash." On the way to the place of confinement, Ballenger was paraded through several villages.

Ballenger was captured while serving as military adviser to royal Laotian troops.

Man Freed in Murder Trial

DANVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A Yell Circuit Court jury deliberated two hours Thursday before finding Helen Amous Kissire, 51, of Mountain, innocent of murder.

Kissire was charged with the fatal shooting of Olen Dix, 47, of Center Ridge, at a construction site on state Highway 27 last September.

The defense called 10 witnesses and the state nine before resting their cases. Closing arguments were heard Thursday morning.

The jury was composed of 12 white men and both the defendant and decreased were white men.

Businessman Plunges to His Death

NEW YORK (AP) — A business executive plunged to his death from the Hotel Summit today. Police said they were investigating the possibilities of a homicide.

The businessman, Herbert Segal, 67, had a belt around his neck when the body was found on a second floor setback, police said. They reported his room on the 14th floor was in disarray, as if a burglary had been committed.

Segal was president of the Action Discount Dollar Corp. here and a resident of Orange, N.J.

His body was found after other guests at the plush new hotel at 50th street and Lexington Avenue in Manhattan heard a thump.

Detectives started questioning several men and two young women.

The original police report said Segal either fell or jumped from the window of his room.

Despite the probe by homicide squad detectives, Inspector John L. Kinsella of Manhattan South detectives said he still was inclined to think it was a suicide. Segal plunged to his death at about 6:30 a.m.

Veteran Racing Driver Killed

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Two race car drivers, one a veteran of the Indianapolis "500" Memorial Day classic, died Thursday night in seven-car crash at a race track here.

Veteran racer Shorty Templeman died in a hospital shortly after the crash. Jim Hemmings of North Vernon, Ind., was dead on arrival at the hospital.

The accident occurred in the second lap of the 15-lap feature of the United States Auto Club midget races. Track officials said Templeman lost control of his car on the second lap and went end-over-end several times. Other cars rammed into the wreckage and one landed on Hemmings, who was thrown from his racer.

Pickets May Face a Court Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pickets at Fisher's Barbecue in Little Rock may soon be confronted with court action, the operator of the restaurant indicated today.

Mrs. Cloreee Robinson, 47, operator of the restaurant, said today she is "thinking about" legal moves.

Pickets have appeared at her restaurant in Little Rock every day but Tuesday, when it closes for cleaning.

Mrs. Irma Armstrong, spokesman for the pickets, said the group is part of the Organization for the Destruction of Discrimination, which was formed three weeks ago.

The ODD contends Mrs. Robinson's restaurant is operated on a segregated basis.

Nothing to Do, He Robbed Bank

GRANADA HILLS, Calif. (AP) — It was hot, and there wasn't much to do around the house, so Darrell Caulfield decided to rob a bank.

He got a loaded gun from a cupboard in his house Thursday, confined his plans to his brother and set out for the nearest bank.

Darrell didn't have much experience at robbing banks — being only 8 years old — or else he would have known better than to let his brother about. The brother turned stool pigeon for his mother, Mrs. Thomas D. Caulfield, who alerted police.

Patrolman E. O. Wilson stopped the boy near a bank, warily plucked the loaded gun from his belt and sent him home.

Reduction in Mexican Workers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A sharp reduction in the number of bracero laborers for Arkansas cotton farms was announced Thursday by the state Employment Security Division.

J. L. Bland, ESD administrator, said the 1962 quota was set by the Dallas Regional Office of Employment Security at 12,000 Mexican workers, compared to 21,180 braceros contracted last year.

The effective date of the 1962 Arkansas ceiling is Sept. 4 and authorizations will be issued immediately to cotton farmers unable to secure sufficient local labor to harvest the crops, officials said.

Mrs. Foster told authorities Morford shot her husband twice in the head near Lake Tahoe, then shoved him over an embankment.

Morford then raped her twice, she said, before driving on to Carson City where she jumped out of the car. Morford was captured six hours later driving the Foster car.

Calvin Cannon was a write-in candidate sure enough. But he was running for sheriff, as a Republican, in the county general election.

The 35 year old Bennett will be guest at a party with Gov. Orval E. Faubus and several Liber ty recording stars expected to attend.

A minimum wage of 60 cents an hour for Mexican workers has been set by the U.S. Department of Labor. This includes even those Mexicans working on a piece, rate basis.

The ESD administrator pointed out that regardless of the amount of cotton picked by a bracero, he must receive at least the minimum wage.

Those working on the piece rate basis not making the minimum wage must be paid make-up wages at each period, Bland said.

These are the Arkansas allotments:

Blytheville, 3,777; Forrest City, 1,665; West Memphis, 200; Jonesboro, 4,973; Newport, 1,005; and Helena, 440.

Drug Undergoing Test in Britain

LONDON (AP) — The sedative drug thalidomide is undergoing a test by a team of British doctors to see if it can be of help in the fight against cancer.

The experiments have been going on in the radiotherapy department of Hammersmith Hospital and at the Chester Beatty Cancer Research Institute. Results have not been announced.

Thalidomide is the drug which has been blamed for deformed children being born to mothers who took it as a tranquilizer during early pregnancy.

Berlin Wall Scene of Wild Night Shooting

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP) — Wild shooting along Berlin's wall—which apparently hurt no one—kept this divided city on the alert for fresh trouble today.

But U.S. officials in Washington were reported confident, barring new outbreaks of violence such as the anti-Soviet riots in West Berlin earlier in the week, that the peak of tension has passed for the time being.

West Berlin police reports indicated about 100 shots were fired from the Communist side of the wall in four different places during the night.

Some of the shooting probably was aimed at a 20-year-old soldier of the East German People's Army who reached West Berlin at 3:30 a.m. He was unhurt.

Only 35 minutes later, about a mile away, West Berlin police looked on helplessly while East German police fired at a man trying to swim the Landwehr Canal to West Berlin. He was hauled into an East Berlin police boat only about 10 yards from the West Berlin bank. Apparently he was not hurt either.

Earlier, West Berlin police, watching through binoculars, saw a man of about 40 being arrested on the other side of the wall and taken away in a truck.

Moscow newspapers criticized the Western powers for turning a deaf ear to Soviet Premier Krushchev's plans for a demilitarized West Berlin. A Pravda writer warned that those who threaten to draw the sword in the event of the signing of a Soviet-East German peace treaty may perish by the sword.

Krasnaya Zvezda (Red Star) in like vein quoted Soviet scientists as saying that while rockets that launched Soviet cosmonauts into space were meant for peace they could be used for military purposes.

East Berlin Mayor Friedrich Ebert, in an editorial in the Communist newspaper Neues Deutschland, said the Western powers' war-won rights in Berlin already were "a fig leaf punched full of holes."

He repeated the standard Communist demand that the Western powers withdraw and leave West Berlin a "neutral, demilitarized free city"—a demand the West has turned down again and again.

Mrs. Foster told authorities Morford shot her husband twice in the head near Lake Tahoe, then shoved him over an embankment.

Morford then raped her twice, she said, before driving on to Carson City where she jumped out of the car. Morford was captured six hours later driving the Foster car.

Calvin Cannon was a write-in candidate sure enough. But he was running for sheriff, as a Republican, in the county general election.

The 35 year old Bennett will be guest at a party with Gov. Orval E. Faubus and several Liber ty recording stars expected to attend.

The originator of "Alvin" the famed chipmunk named the creature after Bennett.

Adams said the number of fatalities was small considering 70,000 men were involved.

Shortage of Teachers in Some Areas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state's smaller school districts can alleviate its teacher shortage problem by consolidating, Ed McCuistion, assistant state education commissioner, said Thursday.

McCuistion said a shortage of teachers in the smaller and rural school districts extended to science and mathematics teachers in the higher grades in some sections of the state.

The chance of these schools of hiring qualified teachers is slim, McCuistion said with school opening only about a month away.

Despite the shortage of qualified teachers, the Education Department has been deluged at times with requests from out-of-state teachers seeking accredited jobs in Arkansas, McCuistion said.

The teacher shortage has developed, he said, partly because the state has begun a program of upgrading teachers.

McCuistion said other reasons for the shortage included better out-of-state pay for teachers than provided in Arkansas, and the impact of marriage on the predominantly female teaching profession.

The United States has seven counties named Orange and one county named Cherry, Peach and Citrus.

Gurdon Office Ripped by Blast

GURDON, Ark. (AP) — An explosion, apparently set off by a leaky gas pipe and a central air conditioning unit, ripped through the office of Dr. A. W. Thompson in Gurdon Thursday night.

Damage was estimated at $15,000 to the building. Damage to equipment was not determined.

No one was at the office at the time.

Fire Chief Bruce Davis of Gurdon said a gas pipe was leaking and gas was ignited by the air conditioning unit, which was recently installed in the building.

Record Loans to State Farmers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Farmers Home Administration of the U.S. Department of Agriculture said today it loaned farm families and other rural people in Arkansas a record $22 million in the fiscal year 1962.

The volume of loans was 47 per cent higher than the 1961 total of $19 million, and 11.5 per cent above the $13 million loaned in 1960.

The administration said approximately two-thirds of the total volume loaned in 1962 went for farm operating expenses, about one-fifth for the purchase, development or enlargement of family farms, and about one-tenth for construction and improvement of houses and service buildings on farms and in rural communities.

Complaint Probed at Helena Port

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — Two investigators for the Federal Aviation Agency left Helena Thursday after looking into complaints some planes had been denied access to the local municipal airport.

The complaints were filed by John Seeman and Earl P. Jones, both of West Helena, who charged they were denied use of the airport by E. E. Terry, manager of Terry Aircraft, Inc., who rents the airport facilities from the twin cities.

Investigators Leonard Winkler, district airport engineer for Arkansas and Louisiana, and Gordon Ritchey, an FAA attorney from Fort Worth, Tex., said they would file a report with the city council within a few weeks.

Both spent two days discussing the situation with Terry, Jones and Seeman and members of the Airport Commission.

Terry has denied allegations that he doesn't permit public use of the airport facilities. The complaint charges some of the hangars are used for crop storage by Terry.

The airport lease, held by Terry, comes up for renewal later this year.

Billionth Visitor

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Dunnigan, Tex., family of Ed C. Truett will be tabbed Thursday as symbolic of the billionth visitor to the national parks of America. The surprise family was stopped by rangers at Hot Springs National Park and received a certificate signed by Conrad Wirth, director of the National Park Service.

Russia Makes West Back Up Over Years

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bit by bit over the years—by talking, threatening, pushing on Berlin—Russia made the West back up and even laid the ground for a show-down crisis.

Its latest move is one more step on that long road. This was in replacing this week the Soviet ambassador in Berlin with an East German military chief.

It isn't pleasant for the West to accept the thought it has been still armed in its tracks but here are two prime examples of it: 1. Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany tried to keep alive in his people the idea they could be reunited with their fellow Germans in Communist-run East Germany. The Eisenhower administration called for reunification, too.

Neither Adenauer nor this country was thinking in terms of a Germany united under communism. And, just because they weren't, what they said about reunification was empty talk, and nothing more, and for this reason:

Khrushchev wasn't thinking in terms of a Germany united under capitalism and allied with the West. The reality was that unification couldn't happen in the foreseeable future.

Khrushchev battered the West into acceptance of this reality. He told Adenauer to reconcile himself to the existence of two Germanies as an "indispensable fact." He said Russia would not permit unification that eliminated "socialism" (meaning communism) in East Germany.

2. Khrushchev, meanwhile, forced the West to think of a problem more real and immediate—Berlin.

Under post-war agreements Berlin—110 miles inside Communist East Germany—was divided into four zones, one each to be occupied by the United States, Britain, France and Russia.

The Soviets, who did and do control East Germany, guaranteed the West the right of access to the city—people and supplies—through and over East Germany.

By this arrangement the West would deal with the Russians on travel to and from Berlin, not with the East Germans. The West refuses to recognize the East German Communists as the legitimate government.

It would, for the West Germans, have been a highly unpopular thing for the West to do.

Stalin tried to break the agreement he made by blockading Berlin in 1948. In one move he could have gobbled up the city, if the West let him. It didn't. It broke the blockade. For some years there was comparative quiet.

Then Khrushchev in a less sudden and dangerous way tried to repeat what Stalin did.

He said he wanted the Allies out of Berlin. He said he wanted it to be a "free" city in the heart of East Germany although no one could have any illusions it would remain free long.

Then he threatened to sign a peace treaty with East Germany. If he did, it would mean the West would have to deal with the East German Reds whom they still refused to recognize.

If the East Germans laid down new conditions for access to Berlin, or tried to shut the West out altogether, and if the West tried to batter its way through, it would mean war with East Germany and Russia, too.

Over the years Khrushchev did some incredible threatening and backsliding. For instance, he set a six-months' deadline for signing a peace treaty. He let that pass and said it didn't matter.

Last year he intensified his demands. The West, as always, said it would not abandon the people of West Berlin, that it had agreements with Russia to stay there.

Last Aug. 13 Khrushchev tested the West. He threw up a wall between East and West Berlin. If the West had battered down the wall one of two things would have happened: Khrushchev would have backed up or there would have been war.

The West did nothing. In this test of wills, Khrushchev won. Now he's forcing the West into another test by pulling the Soviet commandant out of East Berlin. His next move may be a peace treaty with East Germany.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas will award a contract for $300,000 next month for construction of a new addition to Wilson Sharp House, the university's athletic dormitory. The new section, housing a cafeteria, library study area and tutoring rooms, will be named for W. E. (Bill) Darby of Little Rock.

Bids Accepted on State Sanitorium

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Texarkana Construction Co., Texarkana, Tex., submitted an apparent low base bid of $683,767 Thursday for construction of a new surgical building and other projects at the Tuberculosis Sanitorium in Booneville.

But Robert L. Hudgens, acting state Purchasing Agent, said there is a possibility the Manhattan Construction Co., Fort Smith, could be named low bidder.

This is because, Hudgens said, seven alternate construction methods are involved and Manhattan's bid of $687,741 might prove low.

The Sanitorium Board is expected to meet sometime next week to determine the low bidder and award a contract.

Helena Gets New Postmaster

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — Rep. E. C. (Took) Gathings, D-Ark., announced Thursday he has asked the Post Office Department to designate Wallace Pugsley Sr. as caretaker and assistant postmaster in charge of the Helena post office.

A vacancy was created by the death last week of postmaster Ray McCarty.

Gathings said he also has asked the post office to call for a competitive examination to establish an eligibility list to fill the vacancy.

Among the announced candidates for the position are Pugsley and state Sen. Joe Lee Anderson, who recently won re-nomination.

New Group Now at Fort Chaffee

FORT CHAFFEE, Ark. (AP) — The 9,000 troops who will man the new military center at Fort Chaffee were to arrive today.

The first arrivals were Headquarters Battery of the 3rd U.S. Army Corps Artillery, transferred from Fort Hood, Tex.

The 3rd Corps Artillery recently has been designated as a Strategic Army element of the joint Army-Air Force U.S. Strike Command, and will train strategic artillery units which can be air lifted anywhere in the world on short notice.

Also arriving from Fort Hood will be the 418th Medical Ambulance Co. Another unit due is the 1st Ordnance Co. from Fort Sill, Okla. It will supply general automotive support and maintenance.

Teachers Qualified

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The National Education Association reported Thursday that Arkansas ranks 22nd among 39 states and the District of Columbia in the number of public school teachers having at least four years of college. The report, according to Ed McCuistion, assistant state education commissioner, shows that only 6.3 per cent of Arkansas teachers have fewer than two years of college. Some 2,898 of the 16,097 teachers in Arkansas hold master's degrees.

DOROTHY DIX

This Reader in My Corner

By HELEN WORDEN ESKINE

and affectionate stepfather. Thanks for the friendly words. I don't mind the brickbats. At least they show my readers care!

Dear Helen: I celebrated my 81st birthday on the Fourth of July. I'm not writing you because of my own problems — I've had 'em; met and conquered the enemy, as it were, with God's help. Nothing seems as serious to me now as it did when I was passing through them. I just want to say:

Matters have come to a crisis between me and my off-and-on steady. During our nine years of acquaintance I have been married and widowed twice, bore two sons one by each husband — and between marriages gone steady with this one man.

Time and again I've given him the gate because he doesn't know his own mind. But back he comes!

He's never been married, hasn't had too many girl friends and, if you ask me, isn't ready to settle down yet. I contend that he should date other girls besides me until he's sure of what he really wants in life. He grumbles and gripes at this and mumbles that I don't love him.

That isn't the question. What I want is a husband I can be sure of. Why tie myself to a man who hasn't sowed his wild oats?

It isn't as if I had only myself to think of. There are my two sons. This man says he resents the boys fathers, though he didn't know either one of my husbands. At that he gets along fine with the younger kid who is only three but he and the older boy just don't jibe. I fear the ill-feeling would increase if we married. And in the end I would stand by the boys which would mean a divorce.

We've had enough of divorce in our family—my mother married six times. I don't want that kind of unhappiness. I am 26, this man 28.

STRAIT is the GATE

So They May See

Psalm 91

So They May Hear

HE THAT DWELLETH in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

2. I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust.

3. Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

4. He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5. Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

6. Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

7. A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

8. Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

BECAUSE THOU hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

10. There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12. They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13. Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

14. Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

15. He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him.

16. With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.
